

Weight-Loss Medication Coverage

Weight loss medications are prescription drugs that help control your appetite and food cravings.

Are weight loss medications covered under my benefits?

Weight loss drug coverage can vary by plan. If a plan allows for weight loss drugs, coverage is subject to medical necessity which includes a Prior Authorization review.

Medications used for weight loss (this would include all Glucagon-Like Peptide-1 (GLP-1) products) are listed under Central Nervous System Agents – Miscellaneous in your formulary booklet and can be found under Pharmacy Services on the AultCare website at www.aultcare.com.

Please note: even if a weight loss medication is listed on the formulary, it will not be covered if your plan does not include weight loss benefits. To determine if you're covered for weight loss, review your benefits booklet or contact us at 330-363-6360.

If your insurance plan does not cover weight loss medications, you will have to pay for them out of pocket. Manufacturer coupons may be available.
